TOWN COUNCIL REGULAR MEETING

THREE BIDS FOR LIGHTING THE TOWN ARE OPENED AND CONSIDERED.

Action Is Postponed There Being Circumstances Which Caused Councilmen to beUnwilling to Act.

The Town Council at their regular meeting on last Tuesday evening was called to order by President Oyler, all Councilmen being on hand. Minutes of previous meeting were read and adopted.

The light committee reported that they had met after the last meeting, drawn up ordinance with specifications as to a contract for lighting the town and had submitted the same to various parties to bid upon. Three sealed bids were submitted and opened. They were from the Keystone Light Company, a number of citizens under the name of The Citizens Light Company and the Gas Company. The following is a copy of one of the bids submitted:

Be it enacted and ordained by the Burgess and Town Council of the Borough of Gettysburg and it is hereby enacted and ordained by authority of the same that the said Borough of Gettysburg hereby contracts with the said the Citizens Electric Light, Heat and Power Company of Gettysburg for furnishing the said borough for street lighting purposes with thirty-six or more electric arc lights and ten or more electric incandescent lights, the arc lights to be 1200 actual candle power a six and one-half registered amperes, enclosed long burning lamp, and the incandescent to be of 32 candle power, all lights to burn from dusk to dawn and to run according to the moonlight schedule every night except cloudless moonlight nights, to be paid for at the rate of $59.59, for the arcs and $20 for the incandescent each per year, payments to be made monthly in proportional amounts.

The Town Council is to have the right to increase the number of lights, both arc and incandescent at any time upon paying for the same at the same rates. The members of the Town Council and its representatives shall have the right to enter the plant or power house at all times for the purpose of inspecting the candle power furnished. This contract shall be in force for the period of five years from the time light is first furnished and not later than five months from the date of the approval of this ordinance. The poles owned or controlled by the said the Citizens Electric Light, Heat and Power Company of Gettysburg shall be painted ten feet up from the surface of the ground and all poles used exclusively for lighting purposes under this contract shall be free from taxation during the continuance of this contract. The Council Chamber and the Fire Engine House shall be lighted free of charge during the term of this contract. The Council shall have the right to locate all lights and lamps. All lights and lamps that are out for two hours on any night shall be considered as being out all night and a reduction of fifty cents per light per night for lights so out shall be taken off the monthly or future payments.

A bond in the sum of $5000 with a trust company as surety, conditioned for the faithful performance of this contract on the part of the said Citizens Electric Light, Heat and Power Company of Gettysburg and also to indemnify and save harmless the said borough of Gettysburg from all suits, actions, demands, damages, costs and Counsel fees that may arise through, by or on account of the said Citizens Electric Light, Heat and Power Company of Gettysburg in any manner, shall be given to the said borough within thirty days from the approval of this ordinance. The Council reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

John A. Menchey, John A. Menchey,
Calvin Gilbert, A. M. Becker,
A. B. Plank, E. M. Wolf,
Light Committee. Ordinance Com.

The undersigned hereby bids the amounts above inserted for arc and incandescent lights respectively, and agrees to furnish the same at said prices and comply with the terms and conditions above set forth.

Citizens Light, Heat and Power Company of Gettysburg, by

J. L. Butt, Sam. M. Bushman,
E. B. Cope, H. C. Sanders,
D. M. Wolf, Wm. B. McIlhenny,
Henry B Nixon, P. M. Bikle,
Merville E Zinn, Geo. E. Stock,
E. M. Bender, J. Emory Bair.

The stockholders of the proposed Electric Light, Heat and Power Company of Gettysburg who are residents of the town have an assessed valuation within the borough limits of $224,221.58; pay a borough tax of $1807.81, and a State, County and School tax of $3585 83.

The Keystone Light Company submitted a bid similar in terms however being $64 for arc light and $22 for incandescent.

The Gas Company's bid was as follows:

Whereas your body has advertised for bids for a certain number of arc and incandescant electric lights for the lighting of Gettysburg, and whereas it is the belief of the undersigned that the use of the Welsbach Street Light will be more advantageous to the borough and will furnish more light than incandescent electric light, the undersigned submit the following proposition as an alternative for the incandescent lights for which bids are asked.

The Gettysburg Gas Company will furnish all the Welsbach lamps desired, and will locate the same wherever desired by your body with the exception of South Washington street in exact accordance with the terms and stipulations contained in the previous bid submitted by us for the sum of $30 per year for each and every light used. This bid is made on the condition that at least the number of incandescent lights called for in your specifications will be replaced with Welsbach lamps.

After the bids had been read remarks were made by various parties for the different bids, the Citizens company asking for contract because theirs was the lowest bid and reflecting on the present lighting, the Keystone because its plant was already established and had given the town a satisfactory light for ten years and the Gas Co because it was believed the Welsbach lamp would be superior to the incandescent where latter was intended to be used. Quite a number of visitors were present and finally they were asked to withdraw while the council discussed the matter.

Calvin Gilbert moved that the bid of the Citizens Light Co be accepted. Several of the councilmen were not ready to vote on a proposition that involved the right to put up another set of poles in the borough. There had been much opposition to the planting of poles recently placed and it was said that there would be much opposition throughout the town to any more poles. It was further said that the bid of the Keystone was from a plant already established, that had been on the ground for ten years and that the enterprise of the Citizens Co would be experimental and if it turned out financially unsuccessful there would be trouble for the borough while the established plant would not go through any such experimental period but would furnish the light as had been done. After an interchange of comment in which almost all the councilmen took part the acceptance of the bid of the Citizens Co. was put to vote and lost four to five. Councilman Menchey made a motion to accept the bid of the Keystone Co and this was lost by vote of four to five. A motion to postpone matter until the next meeting of council then prevailed.

Treasurer Harry Oyler made the following statement:

BETTER THAN ORATORY.

The Secret of One Clever Lawyer's Unvarying Success.

One of the most common defects of a recently admitted lawyer is a striving for oratorical display. A successful older practitioner endeavors, on the other hand, to give the jury a heart to heart talk. The ways of an eagle in the air, of a serpent upon a rock, of a ship in the midst of the sea and of a man with a maid are as A B C compared with the methods usually pursued by the twelve good men and true. It seems a trifle odd at first that a dozen individuals who separately are shrewd, sharp business men should collectively be guilty of the most absurd performances, but the fact must be reckoned on nevertheless.

A story is told of two farmers who were returning home, one of them from jury duty in a neighboring town. "Lawyer Smith is a great orator," said one—"a perfect Daniel Webster. My, how I hated to decide against him in the three cases he tried!"

"How about Lawyer Jones, who was on the other side?"

"Oh, shucks! Why of course he wins all his cases. I heard every one of 'em, and they were the simplest things. He just explained things to the jury. He didn't have to do any hard talking at all. You couldn't help but agree with him."—Success.

A Story of Rossini.

In "Gossip From Paris During the Second Empire" A. B. N. Peat, the author, tells a story of Rossini, who was much dogged by the lion hunters: "Once a Russian lady outstripped the limits even of Rossini's patience and, having watched his daily promenade during several days, sent a message to his house expressive of her desire to be received by him. The reply to this strange communication was: 'I do nothing for nothing. If the lady brings me a fine bunch of asparagus she will be welcome, and she can take a view of me at her leisure.' Then, pointing to his waist, which had attained a somewhat aldermanic rotundity, he added, 'The lady may even walk round me if she pleases, but I must have my asparagus.'"

Interesting Life of An Adams County Soldier Who Could Tell a Good Story and is Buried in National Cemetery.

In a few days after I had got to Gettysburg here came the whole Rebel force to our peaceful town, this was on the 29th day of June, 1863, they made their first appearance in Adams county, but they came on very slow. Their lines extended from the Hagerstown pike to the Hunterstown road which was in length about six miles. At the foot of the mountain is a town called Cashtown, they formed their line of battle and marched by the front the whole way, taking good care to have a heavy skirmish line in front of them. On the 1st day of July 1863, they came in sight of Gettysburg, and halted about one mile out of town on a stream called Willoughby's Run. Gen. Reynolds had just come to the edge of town on the south side with his corps and as soon as he could take in the situation of things he set his corps in battle array, riding out to view the lines and placing his men right in front of their strongest force to hold them in check until Gen. Meade, who had the command, should come up to his assistance. But while thus engaged an unlucky bullet from a Sharpshooter's rifle ended our much esteemed General, he was killed on the spot. It was a very hard stroke to us to lose so gallant a General at the commencement of such a battle.

But thanks to Him who rules the battles of the right we had another, Gen. Hancock, who took command and by his military skill and his bravery kept the Rebels back and savedour little town. Gen. Hancock's forces were not strong enough to contend with the Rebels as not more than one-half of the Union men were here in action, but what were on the battlefield, on the first of July, did their duty nobly. Gen. Howard was in command at the foot of Seminary Ridge and had a battery of 8 pieces which he used to good advantage. After three or four hours of heavy cannonading his line of infantry made a charge on the ridge. But he was very unsuccessful for scarce had he made the charge until the Rebels flanked him and here he was between two fires. Some of his men cut their way through the flanking line and escaped into town, but there was about seven or eight hundred of his men captured. The cannons were secured and taken into town by our men, in fact so determined were the Johnnies on having those pieces that even in Baltimore street they were driven back by our men at the point of the bayonet. Thus ended the first day's fight. But it looked a good deal one sided I assure you.

On the second day things looked a little brighter for the Union soldiers, here came Gen. Meade, this cheered up the drooping spirits of the Union soldiers. Scarce had he taken command until the Rebel General thought all he had to do was to walk right into town, in this he was very much mistaken. As soon as he opened fire on our men they gave way across the Emmitsburg road, the Rebels followed hard up, thinking that all was right, when lo and behold a solid column of Union men came out of Little Round Top and flanked them completely and took a whole division of the best men, this was a severe blow to them. What could retreated back but a whole division was captured and taken back of our lines, this caused quite a stir in the Rebel lines. But still they fought on and Gen. Longstreet with all his military skill could not get through our lines. Again and again did he endeavor to flank but in this he was greviously disappointed.

After being repulsed time and again they fell back to the ridge again, this ended the fight on the left. Gen. Lee came to the front to see how the land lay, "You must flank them if you want them off that hill," the Boys in Blue had no notion of leaving this ridge dead or alive, for at this time thousands of the same gallant men lay in that sacred soil where they gave their lives as a sacrifice that this Union might live. Peace be to their ashes.

But to return to the field we see the Rebs taking a wide circle getting a mile away from the field of battle, keeping a hill called Wolfs between their men and ours. But no sooner than they make their appearance our boys greet them with grape and canister. This they did not take well to, it came too strong and fast, they left in disgust. There was one more flanking movement to be made, Wolf's Hill was too far away "there is where we fail," says James Longstreet. "Victory or death is my motto. Now we will try Culp's Hill if we can get it we will be right along side the Lincoln Hirelings." Well they did not get close to the D—— Hirelings as he called us on Culp's Hill. If you had been up on the hill after they had left, that is those that could leave, you would have come to the conclusion that the poor fellows had got a little too close, for they did look as if they were at peace with all mankind. It was a sorrowful sight to see our fellowmen laying about six feet deep all wrapt in the sweet slumber of death, it was an awful sight but such is the result of war. Thus ended the Second days Battle.

Feeling confident that he could not flank us he had but one more chance, that was to storm the Cemetery Ridge. Bringing all his available men to the front with a competent reserve to fall back on, he made the advance, on they came and as fast as they came up our men would shoot them down and as soon as they were put out of the way the ranks were filled up again. Our men were not leaving their post for a moment. In vain did the Rebs fall back thinking that our men would follow, in this they were well trained, they wanted to die there if anywhere. This was kept up until about sundown and the Rebels began to give way. Gen. Longstreet rallied his men once more but was unsuccessful and then with broken ranks and broken spirit he left the field, the Boys in Blue had gained the victory. Thus ended the Third day.

But night work now commenced, the Rebs took up a silent march for Hagerstown and that night they marched until they reached the South Mountain, where they halted to count their loss. But they had left on Seminary Ridge, behind a small stone wall, a piece of cannon and some mounted men scattered along the Ridge, and all was quiet on the Fourth it being Sunday. Gen. Meade sent out to see how the land lay. A small skirmish line was formed and marched up to the Ridge and as soon as the Rebels saw them they mounted and left. As soon as Gen. Meade became aware that he had gained the victory he left orders that the dead of both armies should be carefully buried and the wounded of both armies should be cared for, and then he followed them across the Potomac, that is he seen them across. Thus ended the great Battle of Gettysburg. On one of the ridges close to town and on the Battlefield is a beautiful burying ground where sleeps many a true Union man.

DEATH OF JAMES WATSON.

He is the Last of the Older Generation of Watson Family.

Iron Springs, Fed. 5.—Our community was visited by death on Saturday morning the 30th of Jan., James Watson Sr., died with pneumonia. He had been delicate for some time before the above date.

Mr. Watson is the last one of the older Watsons who lived in this community, he held different township offices when Fairfield and Hamiltonban township were together and since Fairfield was made a borough he was elected assessor, which office he filled very carefully and was much admired for his judgment in performing his duties as a township officer. He was respected by every one who knew him for he always had a kind word to say. In his death the community loses a good citizen, a kind neighbor and above all an honest man. There is profound sympathy with the children and relatives in their bereavement.

He is survived by the following children: Robert Watson, of Waynesboro Franklin county, Pa.; one daughter living in New York, Mary, married to Dr. Harry Oyler; one daughter named Annie, marred to Mr. E. B. Swope, living in Fairfield, and one son William living at home.

Funeral services were held at his home on Tuesday, the 2nd of Feb., at 10 a. m., conducted by Rev. Stonebraker, of the Reformed church at Fairfield to which Mr. Watson belonged, after which his body was followed by a long procession of relatives and friends to the Fairfield cemetery to see him consigned to the silent grave to wait the resurrection at the last great day. His wife preceded him to the eternal world seven years ago. Deceased was aged 81 years, 10 months and 8 days.

The pallbearers were, Daniel Frey, William Benchoff, Anthony Sanders and Henry Peters.

Mrs. Dr. Oyler, of New York, has been home for several days during the week on account of the death of her father.

Mrs. Daniel Woodring is lying ill with pneumonia at this time.

An Old Saying Americanized.

The old saying goes "All roads lead to Rome," but an American version would be "All roads lead to New York."

But "there are Roads and Roads," and if you have to travel why not go by the best? But which is the best that's the question?

The Reading System's service, between Reading Terminal, Philadelphia, and Foot of Liberty Street, New York has always been noted for the rapid, well-equipped trains, running on a convenient schedule over a smooth well ballasted track, well protected by the best automatic safety devices, through a beautiful stretch of fertile farming land, diversified here and there by a fleeting glimpse of villages, towns and cities.

It only needed the installation of the system of hourly trains, leaving each terminal "every hour, on the hour," from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m., weekdays, to make the system perfect, and now a traveler between the two cities needs no time-table, it only being necessary to enter either Terminal a few minutes before "the clock strikes" to find a luxurious train, with Pullman Parlor Car attached, ready to take you to your destination. Cafe cars are attached morning, noon and evening, to the train leaving at an appropriate hour.

A Deferred Restitution

A pig belonging to a widow named Murphy mysteriously vanished one night and Pat Hennessy, a ne'er-do-well, was suspected of having had something to do with its disappearance. He denied all knowledge of the pig, however, and as there was no evidence against him he was allowed to go free; but at Mrs. Murphy's instigation, the priest went to see him.

"Pat," said the priest "if you've no fear of the law in this world, at least give a thought to the hereafter. When you're before the Judgment Seat, what are you going to say about that pig?"

"Shure, I duno," replied Pat. "Will they be after asking' about th' pig en Purgatory, yer Riverince?"

"They will," said the priest.

"Will Mrs. Murphy be there, yer Reverince?"

"Yes, Pat."

"An' th' pig?"

"Yes, Pat."

"Shure, I'll wait an' give it to her thin, yer Riverince."—February Woman's Home Companion.

POTATOES AND SPRAYING TREES

WERE THE SUBJECTS DISCUSSED BY ADAMS CO. AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATION

At a Recent Meeting at Arendtsville. The Most Effective Method of Spraying Fruit Trees Explained.

The Adams County Agricultural Association had a very interesting meeting at Arendtsville, Saturday, January 30th, the attendance being large and subjects were discussed with much earnestness.

The first subject was "Potatoes" and Samuel Bream said in growing potatoes he met with success and preferred to plant in corn stalk ground, well manured, plows deep, harrows ground well and plants as soon after oats sowing as possible, makes furrows deep so that in cultivating he can cover any grass that may appear.

Thomas Fisher stated that he had had very good results in planting on sod ground, planting the potatoes when plowing in every third furrow.

David Thomas advised that potatoes should not be held for higher prices. As a rule nearer spring they come down in price. Every person having potatoes wants to sell before they commence to sprout, putting too many on our local markets at one time and cause the price to drop.

The subject of "Spraying Fruit Trees" was discussed at length. A. J. Weidner said to grow good marketable fruit one must spray to hold in check the different fungus diseases and also the codling moth which is a great enemy of the fruit grower, and is the cause of thousands of dollars of loss in Adams county on account of wormy apples.

The time is here when all must spray who want to grow fruit on account of the dreaded San Jose scale. Two years ago there were a few orchards having scale, this year one of the apple buyers said that nearly every orchard is infected with it. They are found in town lots and almost anywhere on some of the fruit trees. It is a fact that if nothing is done the trees having but a few scale now will be killed in from one to five years.

A gentleman from Straban township presented a limb of an apple tree planted five years age and asked to know what was the matter with it. Upon examination it was found literally covered with this scale so that you could not put the point of a pin on it without touching a scale and covered to the end of the twigs. The tree at such a stage is virtually dead will not put out a leaf in the spring. This condition shows the importance of beginning the fight against the scale at once. While it is not a pleasant task and will make extra expense and labor yet those who will do this work will be rewarded.

The remedies are crude oil, coal oil, lime sulphur and salt, and lime, sulphur and caustic soda. The oils are very effective and will kill the scale but are not recommended by the experiment station at Washington nor by Prof. H. A. Surface, Economical Zoologist of Pennsylvania, for the reason that while it kills the scale there is great danger of killing or injuring the trees and should be used only by an expert. The lime, sulphur and caustic soda is good and requires no boiling but is too expensive for a large orchard. The lime, salt and sulphur is the remedy that is recommended by the Department of Agriculture at Washington and by nearly every experiment station in the United States, as the best and safest of anything that is known to hold the scale in check.

The formula used by A. J. Weidner with good effect for two years is thirty pounds of fresh stone lime, thirty pounds of flour of sulphur, thirty pounds of salt, to one hundred gallons of water. Take a large iron kettle, use enough water to slack the thirty pounds of lime. When water is hot put lime in and immediately add the thirty pounds of flour of sulphur and stir, adding a little hot water from time to time to keep from running over. Keep stirring it well, boil furiously and it will hasten the chemical change. The color will change various shades of orange until you have a dark amber color. After boiling about one hour add thirty pounds of salt, then boil fifteen or twenty minutes. While this boiling is going on you have a thick solution like boiling apple butter. When the chemical change has taken place take one half of your solution, have water heated in another kettle and strain in tank or barrel to have the fifty gallons and apply with a spray pump while hot to your trees. The balance of your solution keep hot and have hot water to make another fifty gallons. It is necessary to be from one hour and a half to two hours to make an effective wash. This can be applied without any danger to the trees but must be thoroughly applied, every part of the tree must be covered even to the tip of the limbs. It also acts as a fungicide and will clean the bark and make it healthy.

The Farm Journal in January advocated a remedy that was hoped would be a good remedy in using caustic soda seventy eight per cent. to six gallons of water but the experiment at Washington and different experiment stations showed that that strength will not kill the scale and will injure fruit buds and it would not be advisible to use that remedy unless in a small way, better let the experiment station do the experimenting and use what is known to do the work without injury.

Use a spray pump with all brass working parts and valves, as in experiments I have made I have found that leather valves will burn out in a half hour and that copper will not last a half day. The solution will corrode copper in that time but does not affect brass.

FALL IN—DEMOCRATS.

A sure way for a Democrat to make his party trouble is by fighting some one on his own ticket. The will of the majority has made the nominations, those who believe in Democracy, fall in line and support the nominees. Any other course fosters a condition to bring about a lack of harmony and to weaken the party. This is the year Democracy must be strong and harmonious to win out. Every Democrat should do his utmost to develop and preserve this strength and harmony. The spring election is at hand. Support the Democratic nominees, work for them, bend all energies to help them win out. In working for harmony and victory now is making the best preparation for the fall.

BORDER CLAIM PROPAGANDA.

It would be well for the people of this county never to permit the border damage claims against the government to be forgotten, or die a natural death or be killed in legislation by an unnatural one. The matter should be agitated even unto the third and fourth generation if not paid before. The claims are as just as any that have ever been paid by a nation. The claims were adjudicated by a commission under the laws of Pennsylvania. The commission was an able and impartial one and after reporting to the Auditor General of the state, certificates were issued to those who had suffered losses. In arriving at the amounts evidence was heard and in a large number of the claims the certificates were for a less amount than claimed. Only a few days ago, on Jan. 18, the U. S. Court of Claims allowed a French spoliation claim of about $20,000. The vessel for which claim was allowed was seized Feb. 18, 1798 within one month of the 106th birthday of the claim. Such a fact should encourage all those entitled to border damage claims. No session of Congress should be allowed to pass without some demonstration in their behalf. Senators and Representatives should be appealed to. If claims 106 years old are to be paid why not those only 40 years of age.

WHAT COUNCIL HAS DONE FOR TOWN ON LIGHT.

That the Town Council took no action on the light bids calls for no criticism nor that any political capital be made out of the same against them. The course of the councilmen while considering the light question has resulted in a condition where the town will get electric light at about what it has been paying and for this they deserve the commendation of the citizens. The councilmen who are standing for a re-election can with confidence present themselves to the voters as having brought about a situation by which the town will get electric light at about the present cost instead of one sixth higher rate. That councilmen hesitate in awarding the contract is not a matter to be condemned. The promoters of the Citizens Co., while of the best of our citizens, have had the purpose in view, as one declared, not so much to get the contract as to hold down the price of electric light in the town. Even though there might be some citizens in the new company in earnest to get the contract, councilmen can well hesitate. The present company has well served the town for ten years. The light has been of the best. It is a common thing to hear the stranger say that Gettysburg has been most fortunate for ten years in having a light much better than in many places and the equal of the best and at a price which has been among the lowest. A light plant which has given such service deserves consideration from those it serves. That expensive new machinery was not installed in the absence of a contract has been for the same reason that the Citizen's Co., would not buy machinery until a contract had been signed with it. Council could wisely hesitate before opening the doors to a war of competition between two electric light Cos. Such a war could do no one nor the town any ultimate good. This place is not large enough to support two plants. It would be but a question of time until one would be driven out of business. This would mean until then a constant loss to the one surviving and a total loss to the one driven out. Such a war always reacts on a community and to prevent the possibility of such an emergency is to deserve credit. There was a further question which made council hesitate, whether the town should have another set of poles on its streets. When that time comes the liveliest kind of a time can be expected from every citizen objecting to a pole on his pavement and the names of such citizens are legion. That councilmen want to give the town the kind of light the great majority of the citizens want, that they have brought the price of this light down to a low figure, that they hesitate to disfigure the town with more poles and to bring upon the town a competition war which will ultimately mean loss to some, are excellent reasons why they deserve commendation and why those standing for a re-election deserve to be returned to council.

Catarrh

Is a discharge from the mucous membrane of the nose, throat, stomach, bowels etc., when kept in a state of inflammation by an impure condition of the blood and a want of tone in the system.

Soothe the inflamed membrane, strengthen the weakened system, and the discharge will stop—to do this purify the blood.

"I was troubled with catarrh for years and tried various remedies but found nothing that would cure me. I then resolved to try Hood's Sarsaparilla and took four bottles which entirely cured me. I have never been troubled with catarrh since. As a blood purifier I can find nothing else equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla." WILLIAM SHERMAN, 1030 6th St., Milwaukee, Wis.

Bostonia Sextette Club.

The second number of the College Y. M. C. A. entertainment course is the Bostonia Sextette Club, Thursday evening, Feb. 18th.

The Bostonia Sextette Club, at the present time, needs no introduction to the musical public of America, as it has for several years past been known as the leading organization of its class. The Club has appeared with the greatest success throughout Canada and United States. Mr. Staats, the director and clarinet virtuoso, is an artist of international reputation and experience, having played in the leading musical organizations in Europe and America. Here in the United States he is the most noted clarinetist on the concert stage, having played solo clarinet in Sousa's Band and for years been a prominent member of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. As a soloist he is today without a rival, and is the only clarinetist devoting his time to solo playing in high class concerts

The playing of the Club, under the direction of Mr. Staats, has never failed to please both the press and public.

The members of the Club are all artists of wide experience and great ability, giving a program which is novel and interesting consisting of solos for clarinet, violin and 'cello, numbers for strings alone, as well as brilliant selections for the entire Club.

A word of explanation must be made to the town patrons of the course in regard to the small space reserved for them by the management at the public opening of the chart for Maro's performance. At the opening of the chart for that performance an alarmingly small number of course tickets had been sold in town. Seats for several times that number were reserved but soon proved insufficient because of the great sale of course tickets at Buehler's after the chart had been open This, of course will not happen at the rest of the performances, and the management will reserve the whole east half of Brua Chapel for town patrons. This will mean plenty of room and satisfaction for both town and college patrons. The chart will open for general public at Buehler's Drug Store, Tuesday morning, Feb. 16th. Reserved seats 50 cents, general admission 35 cents, tickets rest of course $1.25.

THAT NEW OXFORD FOX CHASE

TAIL OF FOX WAS PULLED OFF IN STRUGGLE FOR POSSESSION OF ANIMAL.

Two Arrests Have Been Made for Cruelly Torturing a Fox and more are Expected to Follow.

The story of the recent fox chase at New Oxford which resulted in the cruelty of pulling off the tail of the fox turns out to be true and more cruelly true than first reported. When first liberated it ran a mile and was caught beneath a fence by two men, one by the head and the other by tail and in struggle for possession the tail was torn off. The wounded fox was brought back to town and bleeding, was started again. It was caught within a square, then being taken to edge of town the dogs were set upon it and killed it Last week Dr. R J. Russel of Hanover, Agent for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals made information before Justice R. M. Straley, of New Oxford. Daniel Wolf of Mountpleasant township and Pius Wagaman of near Bonneauville were arrested for cruelly torturing a fox. Mr. Wolf promptly paid his fine and costs amounting to $12.50. Mr. Wagaman demanded a hearing. It took place on last Thursday, resulting in the Justice placing a fine and costs on him bringing his bill near to $25. Other arrests are being talked about.

A Marvelous Aerial Globe.

One of the attractions planned for the St. Louis World's Fair will be an aerial globe, 700 feet high. Some idea of its magnitude can be obtained after comparing it with the popular Ferris wheel, which is considered a crude affair beside it. This statement is also appropriate, after comparing the celebrated Hostetter's Stomach Bitters with the other stomach remedies. Its 50 years' record of cures puts it so far in the lead as a family medicine that the others are considered crude affairs and hardly worth a trial. Then don't delay longer, as delay is always dangerous, especially in cases of indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, insomnia, chills, colds or malaria, fever and ague. The Bitters positively cures these ailments as thousands have voluntarily testified. Try it and see for yourself.

JAPAN AND RUSSIA AT WAR

More than three weeks ago Japan had sent message to Russia on the situation in Corea and Manchuria. An early answer was asked. Requests were made several times for answer. Appearances indicated that Russia was delaying to make ready for the inevitable war. Last Friday Japan withdrew all her diplomatic representatives from Russia, which is taken to be the equivalent to a formal declaration of war. It is believed that the first blow has already been struck on the sea, there being reports of Russian steamers seized by Japan.

Latest cable says: In attack on Port Arthur 11 Japanese warships sunk by Russian fleet, 1 Russian warship sunk, 2 battleships (Russian) badly disabled and several others partially disabled Seven Russians killed and many wounded. Japanese casualities cannot be learned. Port Arthur now in flames. Dispatch comes from Russian source.

PROFIT

The matter of feed is of tremendous importance to the farmer. Wrong feeding is loss. Right feeding is profit.

The up-to-date farmer knows what to feed his cows to get the most milk, his pigs to get the most pork, his hens to get the most eggs. Science.

But how about the children? Are they fed according to science, a bone food if bones are soft and undeveloped, a flesh and muscle food if they are thin and weak and a blood food if there is anemia?

Scott's Emulsion is a mixed food; the Cod Liver Oil in it makes flesh, blood and muscle, the Lime and Soda make bone and brain. It is the standard scientific food for delicate children.

PERFECT CONFIDENCE.—Where there used to be a feeling of uneasiness and worry in the household when a child showed symptoms of croup, there is now perfect confidence. This is owing to the uniform success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the treatment of that disease. Mrs. M. I. Basford, of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of her experience in the use of that remedy says: "I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success. WHEN YOU HAVE A COLD.—The first action when you have a cold should be to relieve the lungs. This is best accomplished by the free use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This Remedy liquefies the tough mucous and causes its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs, produces a free expectoration, and opens the secretions. A complete cure soon follows. This remedy will cure a severe cold in less time than any other treatment and it leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. It counteracts any tendency toword pneumonia. For sale by J. H. Huber.

NEW Oxford school board offers $25 reward for arrest and conviction of persons playing cards in the school house.

$100 REWARD $100.—The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials

Toasts followed the banquet and the indications on all hands were that the Arcanum is moving along prosperously in this place.

Numerous postal cards have been circulating in town and county asking for signatures to a mammoth petition to prohibit the sale of cigarettes to minors. The names are directed to be sent to U. S. There is no question that there is no better site in the state than here and none as near appropriate and the permanent site ought to come here.

A rather funny dispossession episode took place last week. Chas. J. Spalding left the L. M. Alleman Hardware Co. on Jan. 1st. Last Wednesday Mr. Spalding made the effort to take possession of warehouse on his lot on corner of York and Stratton streets by removing all goods of Co from warehouse to street. A plan is contemplated by which such houses could be sold for a small cash payment and balance in monthly payments, including interest and payment on principal, and to take the place of rents and at the expiration of term purchaser to own the property. Contingency of death would be provided for so there could be no loss.

THE GREAT BALTIMORE FIRE

AN AWFUL CALAMITY HAS OVERWHELMED THE CITY.

One Hundred and Forty Acres Swept Over. Causing a Loss Estimated at not Less Than One Hundred Million.

A fire that will rival the great Chicago fire started in Baltimore about eleven o'clock Sunday morning and was not checked for thirty-six hours, and burned thirty blocks out of the heart of the city, nearly 1500 buildings were destroyed and the lowest estimated loss in money is put at $100,000,000, and may far exceed this sum. The area is said to cover 140 acres, being bounded on the north by Lexington, St. Paul and Fayette streets, on the east by the creek called Jones Falls, on the west by Liberty street and on the south by Chesapeake Bay. In this district there is gigantic ruin. Fourteen banks were put out of business, the sky-scrapers in the fire district went along with the rest. The great wholesale and retail houses of the city have been wiped out of existence. It is almost impossible to conceive the tremendous loss Baltimore and the country has sustained. The fire started in the store of Hurst & Co., and in a short time there was a whirlwind of flame, against which firemen of Baltimore, Washington, Wilmington, Philadelphia, New York and many other places fought for hours a losing game, and it was only when it reached Jones Fall and the Harbor could it be stopped.

The light from the fire was distinctly seen in this place Sunday evening. Trains on Monday were filled with many people from this place to visit the scene. The disaster means much to many people well known here, among these the store of Hall Headington and Co., dealers in fine furniture, on Charles street, near Baltimore, was entirely consumed, a member of the firm stood by and saw his valuable property go up in smoke. John S. Bridges & Co., job printing house on S. Charles street was a total loss. John Price, brother of Mrs. Craig Shields had to move his tug twice and barely saved it from the flames. Frank and Will. Aumen lived in the pathway of the fire and their parents have had no word from them yet.

The city has been placed under martial law. The Legislature is to declare a week of holidays in the city. Business is at a stand still. The effects of the enormous loss will be far reaching. Only three lives are known to have been lost.

For full information apply to ticket agents.

"INCURABLE" HEART DISEASE SOON CURED.

During the last two or three years very great improvement has been made in the treatment of diseases of the heart. Cases formerly considered incurable now rapidly yield to new remedies. The well-known specialist, Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., will send $3 75 worth of his new Special Treatment free to our afflicted readers.

This liberal offer is for the purpose of demonstrating the unusual curative powers of his new Treatment for heart troubles, such as short breath, pain in the side, oppression in the chest, irregular pulse, palpitation, smothering spells, puffing of the ankles or dropsy.

They are the result of twenty-five years of careful study, extensive research and remarkable experience in treating diseases of the heart, stomach, liver, kidneys and nerves, which often complicate each case.

The Treatments are prepared expressly for each patient, as the result is very much more certain and satisfactory.

Few physicians have such confidence in their remedies. And there is no reason why all afflicted persons should not avail themselves of this liberal offer. No death comes more suddenly than that from heart disease. Thousands die unnecessarily each year because most physicians do not understand their cases.

Mrs. Frank Smith, of Chicago, was cured of heart dropsy, after five leading physicians had given her up. Mr. Keister, of Chicago, was cured after failure of ten able physicians.

A thousand references and testimonials from Bishops, Clergymen, Bankers, Farmers, and their wives will be sent free on request. These include many who have been cured after from five to twenty or more physicians and professors had pronounced them "incurable." Among them are H. A. Groco, 504 Mountain St., Elgin, Ill.; Mrs. Sophie Snowberg, No. 28 21st Ave., S. Minneapolis, Minn.; Mrs. A. P. Colburn, Blessing, Ia.; Mrs. M. B. Morelan, Rogers, O., the presidents of two medical colleges, etc.

Send at once for free personal treatment before it is too late, and mention this paper. Address Franklin Miles, M. D., Grand Dispensary, 501 to 511 Main St., Elkhart, Indiana.

Please mention this paper.

Father John's Medicine cures Colds or money back

A STORY FROM WEST VIRGINIA.

"Father John's Medicine is doing all that possibly can be done in my case, which is a very stubborn one. I had hemorrhages about three months ago, then I began to waste in strength and my stomach was in such shape it could not retain food. I have taken about four bottles of Father John's Medicine and have gained over 10 pounds in four weeks. My stomach is in good shape and I can sleep and eat well. The Medicine has done me more good than all the Doctors or any other remedy I have used. All my friends are surprised at the way I am improving." (Signed) James B. Rice, 639 Main street, Clarksburg, W. Va.

JAMES WHITE'S LETTER.

James White, 8 Mystic St, So. End, Boston, says: "I have told dozens of people about it and they all report the same wonderful success as I had myself with Father John's Medicine for curing heavy colds and run down condition."

Remember, Father John's Medicine is not a "cough syrup" or "balsam" but a food medicine and body builder. It cures colds and all throat and lung troubles by strengthening the system and driving out the impurities. Its gentle laxative effect strengthens the stomach and corrects the digestion. That starts the whole system working right and you are able to resist the attacks of visiting ailments. You are again warned against patent medicines and so-called "cough syrups" and "balsams" that depend upon the temporary weakening effect of some poisonous and injurious drug for their effect—they are dangerous.

APPAREL FOR THE YOUNG GIRL

Refinement in Toilet Accessories—Modes in Perfumes Which Change With the Fashions in Dress.

Afternoon and evening toilets for young girls differ little from the modes prevailing in the adult world, and the quaint models patterned after those of her grandmother do much to enhance her girlish charms.

And with the wide scope of the present styles, home dressmaking is much less difficult than with the severe modes of a few seasons ago. More than one ravishing toilet is possible to the girl of limited means, and never was so wide a scope for individuality of taste.

But let dainty simplicity be the key note in the young girl's apparel. The really well dressed girl is never overdressed. Of handwork there cannot be too much, and the material may be fine, but never gorgeous.

The exquisite white gown I have depicted for you in my illustration is a model particularly suited to the dainty miss not yet "out." It is made of washable Peau de Crepe, its yoke hand tucked, and is prettily trimmed in a scroll design in white satin ribbon, appliqued on by fagot stitching in heavy silk.

The dark blue Silk Krash skirt on my second figure exemplifies the new and popular tucked model that is particularly in evidence among well-dressed women. The tucks are deep and four in number, the lowest about six inches in depth, and the others are graduated, the top one being about three inches deep. Soft and rich, but not too dressy, Silk Krash is a suitable fabric for all practical wear.

The girl or woman who wishes to appear well-dressed, no matter how much individuality she introduces into her gowns, must always carry an undertone of the modes that be, even to her smallest accessories, her boots and gloves carefully selected, and her perfume refined and delicate.

And as the fashions change in dress, so do they in perfumes, and in these days of 1830 modes milady delicately scents her every garment with a new and subtle bouquet of old time quaintness known to the fastidious as E igna—a creation of the great Lubin of Paris whose fame began in our grandmothers' time.

With care in the selection of her hats, avoiding all outre styles, a fashionable, though not exagerated model in her corset—and one of the C-B a la Spirite models is an excellent one to choose—any blouse that leans toward simplicity rather than showiness, and she will present a charming picture of our much-admired American womanhood.

Appearances Against Him.

"Do you mean to intimate that the prisoner was intoxicated?"

"Well, appearances seemed against him."

"What appearances?"

"Well, for one thing he was holding a glass upside down trying to fill it from a tightly corked bottle."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

F. E. B.

We heard a man say the other morning that the abbreviation for February—Feb.—means Freeze every body, and that man looked frozen in his ulster. It was apparent that he needed the kind of warmth that stays, the warmth that reaches from head to foot, all over the body. We could have told him from personal knowledge that Hood's Sarsaparilla gives permanent warmth, it invigorates the blood and speeds it along through artery and vein, and really fits men and women, boys and girls, to enjoy cold weather and resist the attacks of disease. It gives the right kind of warmth, stimulates and strengthens at the same time, and all its benefits are lasting. There may be a suggestion in this for you.

A Million or More of Deaf Mutes.

Recent estimation places the number of deaf mutes in the world at more than 1,000,000. This great number of human beings, living a life which a normal person cannot conceive, is destined to increase because of the tendency of these people to marry persons laboring under the same disability.

Examination of the records of 4,500 marriages of deaf persons shows 9 per cent of the children to be deaf, while only one-tenth of 1 per cent of the offspring of an equal number of marriages of normal persons are likely to be afflicted with deafness. Deaf parents whose relatives are not deaf run no greater chances of having deaf children than persons who can hear, but in the case of normal persons in whose families there are members who are deaf the danger of deaf children is, according to Professor E. A. Fay, who has studied the question, just as great as among deaf people.—New York Press.

A Honeymoon Experience.

The Groom—Would you mind if I went into the smoking car, dear?

The Bride—What! To smoke?

"Oh, dear, no! I want to experience the agony of being away from you so that the joy of my return will be all the more intensified."—Brooklyn Life.

I don't care to meet the man who has never made a mistake, for that infallible individual has likely never made anything else.—Macaulay.

Hens Is Curious Animals.

A boy who was required to write an essay on hens produced the following: "Hens is curious animals. They don't have no nose nor no teeth nor no ears. They swallow their whittles whole and chew it up in their crops inside of 'em. The outside of hens is generally put into pillers and into feather dusters. The inside of a hen is sometimes filled with marbles and shirt buttons and sich. A hen is very much smaller than a good many other animals, but they'll dig up more tomato plants than anything that ain't a hen. Hens is very useful to lay eggs for plum puddings. Hens have got wings and can fly when they get frightened. I cut off a hen's head with a hatchet, and it frightened her to death."

Sleep.

Up to the fifteenth year most young people require ten hours' sleep and till the twentieth year nine hours. After that age every one finds out how much he or she requires, though, as a general rule, at least six to eight hours are necessary. Eight hours' sleep will prevent more nervous derangements in women than any medicine can cure. During growth there must be ample sleep if the brain is to develop to its fullest extent, and the more nervous, excitable or precocious a child is the longer sleep it should get if its intellectual progress is not to come to a premature standstill or its life cut short at an early age.

Her Dilemma.

Ethel—I can't decide which of them to accept.

Kate—Why, that ought to be easy.

Ethel—I know; but, you see, Jack always gives me roses, and Reggie always gives me violets, and the florist tells me they cost exactly the same price.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Her Attractiveness.

Mr. Nervey—Miss Roxley, I adore you. Will you not be my wife?

Miss Roxley (haughtily)—The idea of your proposing to a girl in my station! You should know better.

Mr. Nervey—I do know better, but no richer.—Philadelphia Press.

We are all clever enough at envying a famous man while he is yet alive and at praising him when he is dead.

"GUESS who it is?" The mother knows the touch of the soft hands too well to need to guess, and for the moment she enters into the playful spirit of the child and forgets her toil and weariness. Then a sudden movement sends a thrill of pain through her and she realizes that though love may lighten labor it cannot lighten pain.

Thousands of women who have suffered from backache, headache, and other consequences of womanly disease, have been made well women by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries unhealthy drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"I cannot say enough in praise of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as it has done me so much good," writes Mrs. Henry Harrell, of Tarboro, N. C., Box 105. "I was swollen so I could hardly walk when I began taking the 'Favorite Prescription.' I also had uterine trouble and could neither eat nor sleep only as I took morphine. Tried four different doctors and they all failed to do me any good, so one of my friends recommended your 'Favorite Prescription' to me and I took only three bottles and am now well and hearty. Can do almost any kind of work."

THE MAN WITH THE PATIENT SMILE

[Original.]

"When I was running the Olympic," said the veteran manager, "one day I was stopped on the street by a cadaverous, threadbare, hungry looking chap who asked if I was Mr. Fuller, the manager. I told him I was, whereupon he pulled from his pocket a roll of manuscript, a play, and asked me to read it.

"'What do you call it?' I asked.

"'"A Lucky Find." The hero loses his fortune and finds it again in the third act. The heroine'—

"'Yes, yes; I'll oblige you.'

"'Be careful of it. It's the only copy I have, and it's not copyrighted.'

"'All right. I'll take care of it.'

"I had to go to several places before returning to my office and must have laid the manuscript down somewhere. At any rate I never thought of it again till one day the playwright came to my office. For my life I couldn't remember where I had seen him.

"'Have you read my play?' he asked.

"'Your play? Oh, yes; now I remember. No. I haven't had time to get at it yet.'

"Meanwhile I was trying to think what play it was and where it was.

"As soon as he had gone I hunted high and low for his manuscript, but it was nowhere to be found. Finally I recalled taking it from him and going to several places afterward, but what places they were I couldn't remember. I was very busy at the time, too busy to take any definite action in the matter. Indeed, there was no action to take except to confess that I had lost his play. In a week he was back.

"'Haven't got at your play yet,' I said. Then, fearing he would ask for it to take it away, I added: 'I'm going to have some time next week. Could you wait till then?'

"'Oh, yes,' he said, with the same smile.

"'If you need a little help, I could let you have a fiver while we're waiting.'

"'Oh, no. I've had a bit of luck lately. I don't need anything.'

"'Well, come a week from Saturday. I'll be ready for you.'

"When he called again, I was ready for him with excuses: 'Couldn't more than get through the first act. It opens well. Let me see. The next few days I'll be very busy, but I tell you what I'll do. I don't like to work Sunday, but in this case I'll do it. Come in Monday week.'

"'All right,' he said, with the usual smile. 'Don't hurry. When I saw you last, I'd just got $100 first payment on a play, and today I got $400 more; so, you see, I can afford to wait.'

"Meanwhile I was lying awake nights worrying over the matter. After he had told me that he had sold a play I worried all the more, for a claim from him for damages would now be good. If his play were successful, he might make me pay a large sum. There was nothing for it but to put him off as long as possible. He came again at the appointed time. Fortunately I had a cold.

"'You see the condition I'm in,' I said, coughing. 'A man's not fit to pass on a play when he has to blow his nose between the lines. Beastly weather we're having. On Sunday I thought every minute I'd surely choke. But I've got through the third act.'

"'Climax all right?'

"'Capital. Notwithstanding I had a coughing spell I was much affected.'

"'Cry?'

"'Cry? My eyes were all water.'

"'Climax or cold?' He was as serious as a tombstone.

"'Oh, both. You come in here a week from today.'

"I was getting tired of that smile of his. Such a man was too angelic to live. Instead of writing plays he should be sitting in heaven with all the heroes and heroines who have died on the stage from an excess of virtue. I determined that at our next meeting I'd sound him on the subject of buying his play for a small a sum as he could be prevailed upon to accept. When he came again I said to him:

"'Your play will never do in the world. You've got an anticlimax, an impossible situation in the second act, and the whole scheme is undramatic. But I can use a part of it for a curtain raiser. Would you take a hundred dollars for it?'

"There was no verbal reply—only that confounded smile. I drew my check book and wrote him a check.

"'I can't take this,' he said. 'Somebody has got hold of my manuscript, and the play is to be put on at the National.'

"I turned pale. He smiled.

"'Say, my friend, what 'll you take to let me out of this?'

"'If you'll give me the hundred dollars for keeping me waiting I'll call it square.'

"'Take it and welcome.'

"As soon as he had gone I heaved a deep sigh of relief and congratulated myself on having had a man to deal with who hadn't any more sense than to take $100 for a play he owned and was to be put on the boards by another manager.

"'A Lucky Find' was a great success. I received seats for the opening night and was invited to supper after the performance with the playwright. Curious to know who had stolen the play, I accepted. Who should greet me but the man with the patient smile.

"'The manuscript,' he said, 'had on it my name and address and came back to me at once. In ten days more it was contracted for. This is your dinner to me, and it has been already paid for with the check you gave me.'"

F. A. MITCHEL.

An Irish Compliment.

When Earl Spencer was lord lieutenant of Ireland the people of Dublin called the beautiful countess, one of the loveliest women of her time, "Spenser's Faerie Queene."

But when their excellencies were about to return to England Irish gallantry was shown in a characteristic way. At the farewell banquet in their honor an Irish gentleman got up and said, with much fervor and many bows:

"We all hope soon to see you back again, you and the work of art by your side."

Little Henry's Questions.

Little Henry was reading ancient history stories. "Pa," said he suddenly, "can I ask you a question?"

"I guess you can, Henry. You seem to have a fair command of English."

"Well, may I, then?" little Henry continued.

"Yes," said pa. "Fire ahead."

"That's funny," said little Henry. "I was just thinking of such things. Now, did the old Romans light their houses with Roman candles?"

"I shouldn't wonder," said pa, chuckling. "Nero, at least, indulged in a good deal of fireworks. Anything else?"

"Yes," replied little Henry. "Did the people of Athens do all their cooking with Greek fire?"

Then pa got mad and said he couldn't be bothered with any more silly questions.—Household Ledger.

Laying the "Ghost."

The Earl of Onslow tells a very effective story. His beautiful old place, Clandon, suddenly became possessed of a "ghost," and the servants of the place were almost terrified out of their wits by the noises they heard and the sights they saw or imagined. The reputation of the mansion became noised abroad, and at last Lord Onslow took a short cut to end the mystery. He assembled his servants and gave it out to them that he was determined to have no more of this sort of thing. For the future all members of his family would sleep with loaded revolvers by their side, and at the first suggestion of a noise they would send a bullet in its direction to investigate the cause. Clandon nowadays is quite commonplace in its immunity from the uncanny.—London Globe.

An Odd Spanish Custom.

An odd custom in Madrid is the manner of indicating the sleeping rooms of a house by a spray of palm leaves attached to the railing of the balcony. You will see palm leaves hanging to the balconies of nearly all the residences in town, those of the poor as well as the rich. A sheet of white paper tied to the iron railing means that the room is for rent; a palm leaf means that it is the sleeping chamber of a pious Catholic who brought it home from church on the last Palm Sunday and placed it there to keep away evil spirits, diseases and misfortunes. It remains there the entire year until the next anniversary, when a new palm, fresh from the blessing of the priest, is substituted.

COULD NOT KEEP HOUSE WITHOUT DOWNS' ELIXIR

Those whose duty it is to provide for the family health, naturally feel a sense of security when they know they have at hand an unfailing remedy for that most common of all diseases "hard cold."

Mr. A. B. Moody, Tupper Lake, N. Y. writing us under date of Feby. 16, 1902 said: "I have used Downs' Elixir and consider it a very valuable remedy for coughs, colds and all lung troubles—in fact could not keep house without it."

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol cures indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does not only cure indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy cures all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

Mr. S. S. Ball, of Ravenswood, W. Va., says:—"I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me and we are now using it in milk for baby."

A Hard Struggle.

It's a hard struggle to fight the battles of life with the heavy burdens of kidney ills. The constantly aching back—The weariness—Distressing urinary disorders—All yield quickly to

Doan's Kidney Pills,

A Modern Medicine for Every Kidney Ill.

Mr. William McLaughlin, of No. 542 South Duke street, Lancaster, Pa., says: "I first noticed my back give out when I was a letter carrier. I was constantly taking cold, and it always settled in my back. I employed a doctor and took numerous kinds of medicine, but they availed me nothing. When on the railroad the work made me worse. The pain was sharp in the small of the back, and at night when in bed it was terrible, and I often had to get up on account of a urinary weakness. I sent my daughter to Hull's drug store and got Doan's Kidney Pills. After using them for three days I felt better. I continued until I was all over my trouble, and could heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to others."

PAWN SHOPS OF CHINA.

They Cut Quite a Figure In Life In the Flowery Land.

Pawnbroking is a great institution in the Flowery Land. The Chinese pawnbroker's, however, is quite a different kind of establishment from ours. The pawn shop of China is more a stronghold, a place of quiet and safe repose, for valuable jewelry and the miscellaneous and costly wardrobes of the people. It also in many instances performs the equally important but somewhat costly function of lending to the needy, and, as in the collections of similar establishments of our own land, one may see the much prized jewels and trinkets of happier times, which caused their poor owners many a bitter pang to part with, heartaches that were perhaps brightened with the hope that one day they would be able to redeem them.

To listen to the man selling these unredeemed pledges is one of the choice entertainments of the Peking streets. He is selected by the pawnbroker for his fluency of speech and ready wit, to which he gives full play in his humorous descriptions of the quality and history of the furs and richly embroidered dresses which are piled up on the platform of his tent. He at times runs off his speech in rhyme, making clever and sarcastic allusions to the requirements of his audience, pressing a satin robe on the attention of some naked beggar.—Golden Penny.

Oldest Family In the World.

Of the 400 barons in the British house of lords about a dozen date back to 1400, the earliest being 1264. The oldest family in the British isles is the Mar family in Scotland, 1093. The Campbells of Argyll began in 1190. Talleyrand dates from 1199 and Bismarck from 1270. The Grosvenor family, the Duke of Westminster, 1066; the Austrian house of Hapsburg goes back to 952 and the house of Bourbon to 864. The descendants of Mohammed, born 570, are all registered carefully and authoritatively in a book kept in Mecca by a chief of the family. Little or no doubt exists of the absolute authenticity of the long line of Mohammed's descendants. In China there are many old families; also among the Jews. But in point of pedigrees the mikado of Japan has a unique record. His place has been filled by members of his family for more than 2,500 years. The present mikado is the one hundred and twenty-second in the line. The first one was contemporary with Nebuchadnezzar, 600 years before Christ.
